JAR-FCL

Our Syllabus is prepared in accordance with JAR-FCL Requirements and reflecting to this established EUROPEAN Standard we never had any problems to perform trainings in foreign countries. However we could proceed along your CAA approved training program or your CAA will approve our program.

Usually we contact the responsible CAA prior any contract and release all our papers and documents / references to them. They will approve, because it will be hard to find a training facility with our worldwide training experience on type. With the beginning of the year 2002, Advanced Aviation has started to perform Aircraft Ratings according with the NEW European JAR-FCL Regulations.

We are certified as TRTO (Type Rating Training Organisation) according European JAR-FCL Regulations. We perform training with experienced CRI / TRI instructors for all kind of operations!
